Teachers at BPC College employ a learner-centric teaching method, incorporating workshops, assignments, seminars, projects, practical sessions, field visits, debates, group discussions, and quizzes. Alumni and industry experts lead interactive sessions and workshops, bridging the gap between academia and industry. This connection empowers students with practical knowledge relevant to their academic projects, enhancing their technical skills. Students organize inter-departmental seminar series, promoting collaborative learning. Additionally, the college hosts inter college fests, where both students and teachers from various departments and other colleges participate. These events provide a platform for developing personality, technical, and organizational skills. Departments maintain e-groups and phone groups to update students on assignments, internals, projects, and research, and study materials are provided through e-groups. Student seminars and group presentations on current topics are organized to develop skills in data collection, analysis, and ICT-based presentations. Dissertation works typically address real-world problems or fundamental science concepts. Assignments help students define objectives and draw conclusions related to their studies. Additional learning resources, such as e-books and e-journals, are recommended for enhanced learning.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

Attainment of programme and course outcomes are regularly evaluated through various mechanisms. Formative as well as summative assessments are employed. Formative assessment includes class tests, interaction in the classroom, assignments, periodical test papers, viva voce and laboratory sessions. Two internal examinations are also conducted in general for all students in each semester. The scores obtained by the students in these assessments show the degree of attainment of the outcomes. The score (Maximum 100) for each course has two components. External mark (Maximum 80) and internal mark (Maximum 20). External component is the result of summative assessment and internal component is calculated from the formative assessments based on their attendance and performance in the classroom interaction, tests, assignments etc.. The good number of students enrolled for higher education, good placement records also testimonials for the attainment of programme outcome.

3.4 - Extension Activities

3.4.1 - Extension activities are carried out in the neighborhood community, sensitizing students to social issues, for their holistic development, and impact thereof during the year

Extension activities such as blood donation drives, cleaning campaigns, nature camps, and AIDS awareness programs play a vital role in sensitizing students to social issues and promoting holistic development. These activities immerse students in real-world challenges, enhancing their empathy, social responsibility, and civic consciousness. By engaging in blood donation drives, students witness the impact of their actions on lives, fostering a sense of altruism and community support. Cleaning campaigns instill environmental awareness, encouraging students to value cleanliness and sustainability in their surroundings.

Nature camps expose students to ecological concerns, cultivating a respect for biodiversity and natural resources. Similarly, AIDS awareness programs educate students on health issues, reducing stigma and promoting inclusivity. Collectively, these activities develop skills like teamwork, leadership, and communication, which are essential for personal growth. They also instill values such as compassion, discipline, and respect for others. Overall, extension activities prepare students to be socially responsible citizens, fostering a balanced development that encompasses academic achievement alongside emotional and ethical growth.

GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT6.1 - Institutional Vision and Leadership

6.1.1 - The governance of the institution is reflective of and in tune with the vision and mission of the institution

Nature of Governance: The institution follows a democratic and participatory mode of governance with all stakeholders participating actively in its administration. The management holds the authority and responsibility for fulfilling the institution's vision and mission. The strategic decisions related to mobilization of the resources for infrastructural and instructional facilities come under the direct perusal of the Management. The management Body delegates authority to the Principal, to lead the college towards the fulfillment of the vision and mission. The College Council supports the Principal in the administration of the institution. The IQAC supports the Principal in coordinating quality related activities. The HODs coordinate the activities of respective departments.

Perspective/Strategic Plan: The institution has developed a well thought-out systematic Perspective/Strategic Plan aimed at the development of the institution in a phased manner. Application for grants from government and non-government sources. Extension of available area through vertical expansion. Improvement of the Scope and Profile of the Teaching-Learning experience through ICT and other innovative means. Application for more substantive posts from the State Government. Application for Post-Graduate Courses. Participation of Teachers in Decision Making Bodies: Teachers take active roles in various committees formed at department and institutional level and thus play a crucial role in formulating the larger institution policy.

6.5.2 - The institution reviews its teaching learning process, structures & methodologies of operations and learning outcomes at periodic intervals through IQAC set up as per norms and recorded the incremental improvement in various activities

The Institution reviews its teaching learning process and learning outcomes at regular intervals under the supervision of IQAC. IQAC ensures that as soon as the results are published by the university, the results reaches the hands of the teacher concerned . The teachers then have to perform result analysis of their subject to analyse and figure out the overall performance of the students in previous semester examination. They are further instructed to report to the IQAC if any unprecedented deviation in result are observed compared to previous year. The IQAC, in such cases initiates remedial actions for eliminating future declines and nonperformances. IQAC also insists all departments to maintain student's curriculum-vitae that record student progress in each semester. The department heads consolidate their results and is presented during the IQAC meeting and also during the annual academic audit. In addition to this, IQAC under takes the following as a part of reviving and strengthening the teaching learning processes.

INSTITUTIONAL VALUES AND BEST PRACTICES

7.1 - Institutional Values and Social Responsibilities

7.1.1 - Measures initiated by the Institution for the promotion of gender equity during the year

The institution develops and deploys regular gender equity programmes every year. Cells such as NSS, NCC, Women cell, placement cell, etc. organize various campaigns, lectures and skill training sessions through which changing perspectives on gender is highlighted. Orientation programs are conducted on relevant issues of gender equity and its understanding for the benefit of all students. Equal opportunities are provided to all students irrespective of gender to take part in national and international camps. The college has an efficient and just system that provides students with the space to register gender-based discrimination. In terms of safety and security, the institution has Anti-Sexual Harassment committee, Anti Ragging Committee and Student Grievance Redressal cell in order to ensure parity at governance level. The institution has reserved separate waiting cum rest rooms for girl students. The counseling cell of the college provides emotional and psychological support to the students of the college with respect to various issues of which gender related issues are a substantial part.

7.1.3 - Describe the facilities in the Institution for the management of the following types of degradable and non-degradable waste (within 200 words) Solid waste management Liquid waste management Biomedical waste management E-waste management Waste recycling system Hazardous chemicals and radioactive waste management

Waste generation and management is an unavoidable part of every organization's day to-day operations. Various college cells, such as NCC, NSS, and the nature club, are also committed to minimizing trash creation and the disposal and recycling of created garbage. The following are the measures addressed by college for waste materials: By prohibiting the use of plastic materials on campus, the college is maintained as a "plastic-free zone." Separate containers for degradable/biodegradable, recyclable, and othersolid garbage are placed in prominent locations in the campus. In order to reduce the amount of waste paper and plastic, the institution requires students to carry their food in lunch boxes, lowering trash output. We also employ environmentally friendly materials for decor that are reusable during the college's programmes. Another notion we have institutionalized is the paperless office. Emails are used to send circulars. Plastic and paper waste are also sold to scrap merchants for recycling rather than burned. Collaboration with themunicipality for the collection of non-biodegradable garbage aidsus in preventing waste accumulation. There are enough washrooms and toilets for students and workers. Drainage pipes transport water to leech pits that are adequately sealed to prevent mosquito breeding.

7.2 - Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual.

1. Divyasparsham – The Divine Hands

Context and practice

Divyasparsham is a non-profit charity programme with a vision to create and promote social commitment in our students. The College Union organized a heartfelt initiative named Patheyam, a free meal distribution event aimed at helping the poor and needy. The college staff and students collectively gave Rs. 42350 on August 22, 2023, as part of the Patron's Day celebration, to purchase dialysis kits for patients with kidney diseases at Koinonia Mission Hospital and Eldho Mor Baselious Dialysis Center. On 16th January NSS volunteers visited AGCM Karunalayam, Mamalakavala as part of our charity activities.

2. Awareness of solar energy consumption among staff and students

Context and practice

An initiative for creating awareness amongst staff and students of our college regarding the need for sustainable development and environmental challenges that earth is facing currently. The college has taken the effort to encourage staff and students to use solar energy and to promote the same in the society. Many staff and students are now opting electric two-wheelers and four-wheelers.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

Teachers at BPC College employ a learner-centric teaching method, incorporating workshops, assignments, seminars, projects, practical sessions, field visits, debates, group discussions, and quizzes. Alumni and industry experts lead interactive sessions and workshops, bridging the gap between academia and industry. This connection empowers students with practical knowledge relevant to their academic projects, enhancing their technical skills. Students organize inter-departmental seminar series, promoting collaborative learning. Additionally, the college hosts inter college fests, where both students and teachers from various departments and other colleges participate. These events provide a platform for developing personality, technical, and organizational skills. Departments maintain e-groups and phone groups to update students on assignments, internals, projects, and research, and study materials are provided through e-groups. Student seminars and group presentations on current topics are organized to develop skills in data collection, analysis, and ICT-based presentations. Dissertation works typically address real-world problems or fundamental science concepts. Assignments help students define objectives and draw conclusions related to their studies. Additional learning resources, such as e-books and e-journals, are recommended for enhanced learning.

2.5 - Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 - Mechanism of internal assessment is transparent and robust in terms of frequency and mode. Write description within 200 words.

At the beginning of the year, an Academic Calendar (Annual Academic Plan) is prepared with the support IQAC. University AcademicCalendar and Departmental Academic Plans are the baseline documents for the preparations of the annual academic plan. The academic calendar ensures that adequate instructional hours to facilitate the teachers to deliver their courses effectively. The academic calendar is prepared in tune with the conduct of examinations. The academic calendar also ensures ample time for the extracurricular performance of students. Various students forums and clubs conduct extracurricular activities. These programmes are planned in advance to save the class hours of students. The academic conferences and workshops are also planned in advance and the course calendars are also prepared considering these programmes to save the class hours.

2.5.2 - Mechanism to deal with internal examination related grievances is transparent, time-bound and efficient

The institution follows the directions of the Mahatma Gandhi University for both the Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE) and the End Semester Examination (ESE). Attendance, internal Assessment Examinations and assignments/seminars are the CIE components in both the UG programme and the PG programmes. The College has an examination office headed by the Chief Superintendent of Examinations. This office has 2 computers, one color printer, one photocopier machine and associated accessories. The pattern of question papers and answer sheets are with the external examination pattern. The tentative dates of internal examinations are planned well in advance by the College Council. The time table is displayed on the notice boards, college website. After each class, the teacher concerned will mark the attendance on the computer system. The internal mark sheet is generated by the teachers concerned and published in the college notice board. The students can check his/internal marks before uploading in the university portal. Each class is under the direct control of the class teacher who closely observes the punctuality of students in attending classes. The class teacher concerned will enquire about the reason for absence and take supportive steps to sort out the reason of absence.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 - Programme and course outcomes for all Programmes offered by the institution are stated and displayed on website and communicated to teachers and students.

The College offers instruction in five Undergraduate Programmes and two Postgraduate Programmes. B.C.A., B.B.A., B.Sc. Electronics, B.A.Journalism and B.Com. with Computer Applications are UG programmes and M.Sc. Computer Science and M.Sc. Electronics are PG programmes. All UG programmes have an average of 36 Courses with credits ranging through 4, 3 and 2. Usually the core courses will have 4, complementary courses will have 3 and lab courses will have 2 credits. Total credits is 120 with an average of 20 credits per semester. Total credit for PG programme is 80 with an average 20 credits per semester. All these courses are designed with outcomes defined by the University to facilitate the employability of learners. These are very well explained during the first few lectures on each course and are also displayed along with the syllabus in the website. It is also briefed to parents and students during the orientation class usually held in the beginning of the programme. The list of programme offered along with their courses and the course outcome is available at www.bpccollege.ac.in.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

Attainment of programme and course outcomes are regularly evaluated through various mechanisms. Formative as well as summative assessments are employed. Formative assessment includes class tests, interaction in the classroom, assignments, periodical test papers, viva voce and laboratory sessions. Two internal examinations are also conducted in general for all students in each semester. The scores obtained by the students in these assessments show the degree of attainment of the outcomes. The score (Maximum 100) for each course has two components. External mark (Maximum 80) and internal mark (Maximum 20). External component is the result of summative assessment and internal component is calculated from the formative assessments based on their attendance and performance in the classroom interaction, tests, assignments etc.. The good number of students enrolled for higher education, good placement records also testimonials for the attainment of programme outcome.

3.4 - Extension Activities

3.4.1 - Extension activities are carried out in the neighborhood community, sensitizing students to social issues, for their holistic development, and impact thereof during the year

Extension activities such as blood donation drives, cleaning campaigns, nature camps, and AIDS awareness programs play a vital role in sensitizing students to social issues and promoting holistic development. These activities immerse students in real-world challenges, enhancing their empathy, social responsibility, and civic consciousness. By engaging in blood donation drives, students witness the impact of their actions on lives, fostering a sense of altruism and community support. Cleaning campaigns instill environmental awareness, encouraging students to value cleanliness and sustainability in their surroundings.

Nature camps expose students to ecological concerns, cultivating a respect for biodiversity and natural resources. Similarly, AIDS awareness programs educate students on health issues, reducing stigma and promoting inclusivity. Collectively, these activities develop skills like teamwork, leadership, and communication, which are essential for personal growth. They also instill values such as compassion, discipline, and respect for others. Overall, extension activities prepare students to be socially responsible citizens, fostering a balanced development that encompasses academic achievement alongside emotional and ethical growth.

6.5.2 - The institution reviews its teaching learning process, structures & methodologies of operations and learning outcomes at periodic intervals through IQAC set up as per norms and recorded the incremental improvement in various activities

The Institution reviews its teaching learning process and learning outcomes at regular intervals under the supervision of IQAC. IQAC ensures that as soon as the results are published by the university, the results reaches the hands of the teacher concerned. The teachers then have to perform result analysis of their subject to analyse and figure out the overall performance of the students in previous semester examination. They are further instructed to report to the IQAC if any unprecedented deviation in result are observed compared to previous year. The IQAC, in such cases initiates remedial actions for eliminating future declines and nonperformances. IQAC also insists all departments to maintain student's curriculum-vitae that record student progress in each semester. The department heads consolidate their results and is presented during the IQAC meeting and also during the annual academic audit. In addition to this, IQAC under takes the following as a part of reviving and strengthening the teaching learning processes.

INSTITUTIONAL VALUES AND BEST PRACTICES

7.1 - Institutional Values and Social Responsibilities

7.1.1 - Measures initiated by the Institution for the promotion of gender equity during the year

The institution develops and deploys regular gender equity programmes every year. Cells such as NSS, NCC, Women cell, placement cell, etc. organize various campaigns, lectures and skill training sessions through which changing perspectives on gender is highlighted. Orientation programs are conducted on relevant issues of gender equity and its understanding for the benefit of all students. Equal opportunities are provided to all students irrespective of gender to take part in national and international camps. The college has an efficient and just system that provides students with the space to register gender-based discrimination. In terms of safety and security, the institution has Anti-Sexual Harassment committee, Anti Ragging Committee and Student Grievance Redressal cell in order to ensure parity at governance level. The institution has reserved separate waiting cum rest rooms for girl students. The counseling cell of the college provides emotional and psychological support to the students of the college with respect to various issues of which gender related issues are a substantial part.

7.1.3 - Describe the facilities in the Institution for the management of the following types of degradable and non-degradable waste (within 200 words) Solid waste management Liquid waste management Biomedical waste management E-waste management Waste recycling system Hazardous chemicals and radioactive waste management

Waste generation and management is an unavoidable part of every organization's day to-day operations. Various college cells, such as NCC, NSS, and the nature club, are also committed to minimizing trash creation and the disposal and recycling of created garbage. The following are the measures addressed by college for waste materials: By prohibiting the use of plastic materials on campus, the college is maintained as a "plastic-free zone." Separate containers for degradable/biodegradable, recyclable, and othersolid garbage are placed in prominent locations in the campus. In order to reduce the amount of waste paper and plastic, the institution requires students to carry their food in lunch boxes, lowering trash output. We also employ environmentally friendly materials for decor that are reusable during the college's programmes. Another notion we have institutionalized is the paperless office. Emails are used to send circulars. Plastic and paper waste are also sold to scrap merchants for recycling rather than burned. Collaboration with themunicipality for the collection of non-biodegradable garbage aidsus in preventing waste accumulation. There are enough washrooms and toilets for students and workers. Drainage pipes transport water to leech pits that are adequately sealed to prevent mosquito breeding.

7.2 - Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual.

1. Divyasparsham – The Divine Hands

Context and practice

Divyasparsham is a non-profit charity programme with a vision to create and promote social commitment in our students. The College Union organized a heartfelt initiative named Patheyam, a free meal distribution event aimed at helping the poor and needy. The college staff and students collectively gave Rs. 42350 on August 22, 2023, as part of the Patron's Day celebration, to purchase dialysis kits for patients with kidney diseases at Koinonia Mission Hospital and Eldho Mor Baseliious Dialysis Center. On 16th January NSS volunteers visited AGCM Karunalayam, Mamalakavala as part of our charity activities.

2. Awareness of solar energy consumption among staff and students

Context and practice

An initiative for creating awareness amongst staff and students of our college regarding the need for sustainable development and environmental challenges that earth is facing currently. The college has taken the effort to encourage staff and students to use solar energy and to promote the same in the society. Many staff and students are now opting electric two-wheelers and four-wheelers.
